wood flooring's finest

THE NEXT GENERATION OF WOOD FLOORING

A wooden floor is your invitation to enjoy every day to the fullest. It can be a creative stage for our little ones or the foundation of daily office productivity. The use of wood in your interior brings warmth and creates a welcoming, friendly atmosphere as soon as you step into the room.

Wood needs to be cherished. It's the best that nature can offer us: authentic, versatile, full of character... That's why we choose to use our wonderful wood very sparingly. With just a thin layer of wood, our pioneering floors give nature the room to breathe while giving you an interior that exudes quality.

Sustainable by nature, produced with innovative technology, finished with a natural look and feel, protected by the powerful Woodshield, and stronger than traditional parquet: our wooden floors are the future.

Meet Parky, wood flooring's finest.

WOOD FLOORING'S FINEST

Choosing Parky means choosing to enjoy the authentic feel of wood. But does that mean it's bad for nature? Not at all! Parky consciously makes sparing use of wooden raw materials from well-managed forests and is committed to using sustainable production methods. As a result, our fine-quality wooden top layer uses up to 25x less wood than is required for the production of solid parquet.

Our wooden top layer is reinforced with a high-grade Ultra HDF core to create a high-quality, strong wooden floor. Our Woodshield guarantees maximum protection against water, scratches and dents, without compromising the feeling of wood. The carefully designed composition and finish of every Parky plank also means easy installation, lasting quality and an accessible price.

Parky is setting new standards in the wood flooring industry. Experience the benefits of a Parky floor while honouring both nature and your interior!

THE POWER OF REAL WOOD

When choosing Parky, you're seeing and feeling real wood. It's that love for wood that becomes the cornerstone for rooms with warmth and character. Our Parky range features carefully selected wood species, displayed at their best as the top layer of your floor. No two wooden planks are identical, in the same way every single interior has its own identity.

To strengthen the unique feel of wood, the floor is brushed and then treated with an innovative matt lacquer that respects the wood grain's structure. This retains and protects the wood's appearance and soul, with all its characteristic details.

With Parky, you're guaranteed the authentic charm, natural warmth and powerful performance of wooden floors.

RESILIENT AGAINST WATER, SCRATCHES & DENTS

One of the most important Parky features is our revolutionary Woodshield. This ultra-strong, invisible technology is the ultimate protection for your wooden floors.

Woodshield comprises eight strong layers of lacquer, which make our Parky floors highly wear-resistant and scratch resistant. This specially developed, matt lacquer follows the grain of our brushed floors very closely, resulting in a superb appearance. No need to compromise on the natural charm of wood with these exceptionally strong floors.

But Woodshield protects more than just the wood grain. It also protects the V-grooves between the planks, creating a moisture protective surface that can withstand water for at least 24 hours. In other words, your floor is protected against water, dirt and dust, right into the deepest corners.

Did you happen to drop a vase, glass or something else? No need to panic: Woodshield also protects Parky floors against dents. The reinforced finish, the real wood top layer and robust high-density fibreboard (Ultra HDF) at the core of each plank create a rock solid trio.

The carefully designed structure and the reinforced protection for our Parky floors ensure long-term quality, carefree use and low maintenance, even when subjected to intensive use (class 33).

Parky: a worry-free wooden floor, for every moment of the day.

Various layers are combined to create a uniquely strong wooden floor:

WOODSHIELD ¹

The Parky Woodshield lives up to its name: it creates an invisible and rock-solid shield for your wooden floor.

WOOD ²

Our carefully selected wood species are cut into thin layers and give our Parky floors their unique warmth and character.

HDF BOARD ³

The core of a Parky floor is an ultra high-density fibreboard made from 100% recovered wood — and is stronger than wood and better at absorbing impacts, resulting in a durable, high-quality floor.

BACKING LAYER ⁴

Below the ultra high-density fibreboard, a robust wooden backing layer ensures equal stability.

A SUSTAINABLE CHOICE

At Parky, we hold a deep respect for nature and take a conscientious approach when using raw materials. That's why you won't find any solid wood planks in our collections. Parky floors are designed with care, only using a thin wood top layer. This means 25x less wood is required compared to the production of solid parquet. Our wood originates from well-managed forests and is PEFC-certified. Combined with an Ultra HDF core made from 100% recovered wood, this results in a sustainable product that is much stronger and more stable than traditional solid wood parquet.

Furthermore, our Parky floors are finished with exclusively water-based wood stains, adhesives with a minimum of volatile organic compounds, and lacquer with a low concentration of solvents. The result is an excellent air quality with all Parky floors holding an A+ quality label.

We generate our own renewable energy which supplies 25% of our needs for the Parky production process and are working towards achieving a positive carbon footprint by 2040. It is our ambition to give back more to the earth than to take from it.

UNDERSTAND WOOD GRADING

When wood is prepared for use in flooring, it goes through a selection process known as grading. Parky offers two grades — Premium and Rustic Light as shown below. Grading differs across colour and range combinations, so it's important to understand the difference so you can find the right floor for your space.

PREMIUM

Our Premium planks are exceptionally pure, chosen for their clean grain and knot-free appearance — ideal for creating a refined, subtle aesthetic.

RUSTIC LIGHT

Are you looking for a wood floor with character? Our Rustic Light planks feature large and small knots, for a more outspoken, authentic look.

CHOOSE YOUR PLANK SIZE

The size of a room determines the dimensions of the required planks. Choose short, narrow planks for a small room. Got more space? Wider, longer planks will be the most effective. Remember to think about the orientation of the planks when installing them. Follow the direction of the light or install them along the length of the room to make it appear larger.
